- Discussing the complaint with the inmate/resident in an attempt to resolve the matter;
- Reading of all correspondence, including special correspondence, addressed to the individual and disallowing only that which appears to perpetrate the problem; and/or
- Disallowing all correspondence to the individual.

Any inmate/resident found to be corresponding with a restricted correspondent may be subject to correspondence restriction and/or disciplinary action.

INCOMING CORRESPONDENCE

GENERAL

All incoming general correspondence is subject to being read, in part or in full, and searched for contraband before it is delivered to the inmate/resident.

In accordance with ICE PBNDS 5.1, correspondence and other mail, general correspondence for ICE detainees shall be opened and inspected in the presence of the detainee, unless the warden/administrator authorizes inspection without the detainee's presence for security reasons.

Any enclosures (e.g. newspaper articles, internet articles, or copies thereof, etc.) will be treated in the same manner as the general correspondence.

Incoming general correspondence containing contraband or prohibited correspondence/items as outlined in 16-1.4 G. will be withheld.

In the event general correspondence is received for an inmate/resident from a health care provider that CCA uses for off-site inmate/resident medical appointments, the correspondence will be withheld in an effort to protect the public, facility employees, and inmates/residents from outside threats during transports/off-site appointments.

Inmates/residents not wanting their incoming general correspondence to be reviewed/inspected by employees may choose to reject all incoming general correspondence.

The inmate/resident must complete and submit the 16-1D Rejection of General Correspondence form to the Facility Mailroom.

All general correspondence received for inmates/residents who have submitted a 16-1D will not be opened. It will be marked returned to sender and sent back to the local post office.

SPECIAL

Incoming special correspondence should be marked "Confidential/Legal Mail" and must bear the name and title of a sender considered special under 16-1.4 K. of this policy. Any special correspondence that cannot be identified as special correspondence based on the markings on the outside of the envelope will be treated as general correspondence.

Incoming special correspondence may be opened and inspected in the presence of the inmate/resident to whom it is addressed.

In the event special correspondence is opened in error, it will not be read but will be immediately resealed. The employee who opened the correspondence in error must mark "opened in error" on the envelope and sign and date the envelope. A log will be maintained to document all special correspondence opened in error.

Any enclosures (e.g. newspaper articles, internet articles, etc.) will be treated in the same manner as special correspondence.

Any portions of the special correspondence that do not contain prohibited correspondence/items will be delivered to the addressee.

INCOMING

- All incoming approved glasses/books will be inspected for contraband.
- Eye glasses can be ordered through a vendor or sent from home as long as they meet the criteria of no metal or wire and are approved and entered into the OMS mail log by Unit Staff. Unit Staff will deliver and have the inmates sign for the package on the mail log when they arrive. Contacts will no longer be allowed to be mailed in to inmates.
- Amazon will no longer be allowed as an outside vendor. Books will be allowed from direct source vendors only, such as Barnes and Noble or Hamilton Books.

In accordance with ICE National Detention Standards (correspondence and other mail):

- Inmates/detainees will not be allowed to receive or send packages without advance arrangements approved by the warden/administrator. The inmate/detainee will pay postage for packages and oversized or overweight mail.
- Incoming priority, overnight, certified mail, and deliveries from a private package delivery service, etc, shall be recorded in a logbook to include inmate/detainee signature.

Procedures for Sending Money

This facility will not accept money at visitation or through the mail. Instead, please follow the instructions on the link (<http://www.cca.com/facility/central-arizona-detention-center/>) under Money Transfer.
